Making War Upon the Gas Company. At the meeting of the House District Com-At the meeting of the House District Committee yesterday, the subject for discussion being the proposed incorporation of new gas companies, a hearing was given to persons who desired to speak on the subject. The Washington Gas-Light Company was represented by president Bartol and Mr. McIlbenny, the engineer. Mr. Schade, of the Scatheel, said that the gas furnished by the companny was miscrable in quality and the prices charged exorbitant. Mr. Tenney, of the National Hotel, made the same complaint, and stated that since the geduction in the price of gas his bills were as large us ever, though he consumed no more gas. In respect to a published charge that a clerk in the employ of the House of Representatives was also in House of Representatives was also in the employ of the gas company, and through him favored Members of Conthrough him favored Members of Con-gress were served with gas free of charge, Mr. Bartol said that the clerk alluded to, Mr. Bailey, was not in the employ of the gas com-pany and only connected with it as a stock-holder, and he denied that gas was furnished free to any Member of Congress. Congress, he said, regulated the price to be charged, and the company without legislation or compulsion reduced the price of gas saveral times. reduced the price of gas soveral times.

Mr. McIlheuny claimed that it was better to linve but one company, subject to restrictions and regulations imposed by Congress, than to have soveral. The committee postponed further consideration of the subject until next Saturday.

The Commissioners have transmitted to Hon. Eppa Hunton, chairman of the House District Committee, a statement of the amounts paid to the Washington and Georga-town Gas-Light Companies for the year end-ing December 31, 1879, as follows: For Washton, $119,011.74, and for Georgetown, $9,355.51; total, $128,367.41.

The United States Agricultural Society.

Star Mail Service. The Star route mail service investigation was continued yesterday by the sub-committee of the House Committee on Appropria-tions, General Brady being still before the committee. General Brady takes the ground that he had good reason to believe that Con-gress would sustain him in going beyond the appropriations, from the necessities of the service and the urgency with which Members pressed the applications for new service.

The inquiry yesterday was directed to the service on the route between Sante Fe, N. M., and Prescott, Arizons, a distance of 460 miles, where $135.975 was now paid for the service, areading by $25,000.

exceeding by $63,000 the amount paid the previous contractor for the same service. The explanation was that the former contracto failed to perform the service, and the contract was given to his sub-contractor, who took it at a less figure than the next lowest bidder. The committee adjourned to balf-past 10 Saturday morning.

The Indian Bareau Investigation. It would also seem useless for General Fisk to attempt to sustain the charges with a committee which has prejudged the case and carries on the investigation in the room of the accused. It is due to the public, to the Secretary of the Interior, to to the accused, to the Board of Indian Commissioners and to the goard or Indian Com-missioners and to the goatleman who brings the charges, that the investigation take another form and that it be conducted in a manner and by a tribunal that will command public respect and confidence. General Fisk, it would seem can have no hope of accom-plishing anything in this direction unless, possibly, he desires to see how far the board will go, and the Secretary of the Interior sus-tain them in an attempt to screen Commis-sioner Hayt. The inquiry having been started, it cannot now rest, and whatever the report of the present committee may be, an investi-gation elsewhere will be demanded by the

The Kellogg-Spofford Case. The evidence in the Kellogg-Spofferd Interminable contest yesterday before the Senate committee was diversified by some decidedly lively passages. M. H. Twitchell, United States Consulat Kingston, Canada, formerly a State Senator in Louisians, was called to disprove certain charges of bribery, and did so very effectually. On his cross-examination the fun began. M. C. Walker, of New Orleans, Spofford's counsel, started in to prove what he called the "dark record" of the witness' life, and his first few questions and the asswers response by the provider of the deceased was stricken with paralysis.

Another witness was W. H. Seymour, a notary public, who has figured a good deal in this investigation and in the Anderson-Webel lestimeny before the Potter committee. He identified two papers shown him, which dis closed a corrupt bargain between a man named W. K. Spearing and George Dicks, Ed. J. Ewert and Jeremial: Blackstone to furnish Spofford with affidavits for the sum of $1.500, and frankly admitted that Dicks brought him and frankly admitted that Diess dronger this one man to swear to an affidavit already draws up in Dicks' handwriting, that he was brited as a number of the legislature to vote for Kallogy, when, as he subsequently learned the man brought by Dicks was not the nerson he represented himself to be. Mr. Seymour he represented himself to be. Air. Seymour stated that he very properly refused to qualify the witness to the affidavit unless he was allowed to read it, as Dicks had got him into trouble once before in a similar way. That was the last of it. Fell From a Car.

Last night about 9:30 o'clock a colored man named Tom Richardson, overloaded with bad whisky, attempted to get on an Avenue car at Ninth street northwest, going toward Georgetown. He lost his balance and fell, striking the back of his head on the concrete pavement, inflicting a severe cut on the right side, which bled freely. Dr. Reyburn examined the would, and said there was no fracture. Sergeant McHenry, with assistance, carried him to the station-house, where he was taken care of and permitted to leave when sober.

THE TRUE STATE

WOOLEN MARKET

With the single exception of iran, the rise n prices of wool has been greater than in any ther product. The fabrics that are now be ing consumed do not show any advance in price, as they were made out of last year's products of wool. The advance in Low and Medium Wools has been from 40 to 70 pe ent. In Delaine and Fierce Wools nearly 00 per cent. That those prices are not speative can be best inferred from the fact hat wool-growers have not for seven years est made a dollar on their wool crop, and in nany instances failed to shear their sheep, as he prices realized DID NOT PAY FOR SHEARING. The past year's crop will be used in the manufacture of goods this year id as such houses as FAULKNER, PAGE & Co

OMEROY & PEMUBER and others of the largest ssion houses in the world have bought 310 Seventh St. t an average advance of 70 per cent. for the se of their mills, and not for the purposes of eculation, it is certain BEYOND THE POS-SIBILITY OF A DOUBT, that all grades of roolen fabrics will be at least TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT. HIGHER NEXT SEASON.

In Linens and Cottons that are used in the manufacture of garments the advance aver ges 25 per cent. The great demand for Ready-Made Cloth
